My Radio is a melodic rock band that began with a chance meeting between Boston singer/songwriter JP Powell (Chauncey, Bleu and My Favorite Relative) and drummer Hunter Johnson (Down Dexter and Justin Jones) at a coffee shop in Roanoke, VA. Guitarist Brett Lemon and bassist Jeff Hofmann quickly joined the pair to round out the group. My Radio has been playing small theaters (Dumas, Jefferson), venues (Iota, The Mercury Lounge, Local 506) and festivals (Floyd Fest) up and down the East Coast ever since.

After self-releasing their debut CD titled "Give Us The Sun," My Radio signed with Ocean Park Music Group out of Santa Monica, California. They have already landed placements with Fox Sports and are currently featured in the upcoming movie and trailer for The Joneses starring Demi Moore and David Duchovny, which is set to release on April 16, 2010. 101.5 'The Music Place,' has put "Yeah, Yeah, Yeah" into rotation. In addition, My Radio's song "You Are OK" has been selected as a semi-finalist in the International Songwriting Competition for 2009. My Radio is currently working on a new record with producer Micah Wilshire that should be released by the end of 2010.
